एक रुपये लीटर सस्ता हुआ अमूल का दूध

अमूल ब्रांड से दूध उत्पाद बेचने वाले गुजरात सहकारी दूध विधान संघ ('जीसीएमएफ') ने देश भर में दूध के दाम में एक रुपये प्रति लीटर की कटौती की है। हालांकि कोम्पानी ने यह कटौती के बावजूद एक लीटर वाले पैकेट पर कोई गई है। जीसीएमएफ के प्रबंध निदेशक जयेन मेहता ने कहा कि देश भर में अमूल ब्रांड के सभी तरह के दूध के एक लीटर वाले पैकेट की कीमतों में एक रुपये की कटौती की गई है। उक्तोंने कहा कि इसका उद्देश्य उपभोक्ताओं को दूध के बारे में जागरूक करना है। इस कटौती के बाद दिल्ली में अमूल गोल्ड दूध की कीमत 68 रुपये प्रति लीटर से घटाकर 67 रुपये की दी गई है और अमूल ताजा की कीमत 56 रुपये प्रति लीटर से घटकर 55 रुपये हो गई है।

NEET-UG 2025: CENTRE PITCHES FOR GOVT INSTITUTES AS TEST CENTRES AND CLOSE COLLAB WITH STATES

Stricter NEET Test Centre Allocation Rules Now

Leaks, exam protocol breach reported at several NEET-UG 2024 centres in private schools from Hazaribagh to Godhra

Anubhuti Vishnoi

New Delhi: The Centre will exercise high caution in selection of NEET-UG test centres this year and work in close collaboration with the state and district administration, to prevent any recurrence of the exam paper leak of NEET-UG 2024 that landed the government in serious controversy besides numerous court cases.

ET gathers that instructions have been sent out to allocate test centres for NEET-UG 2025 only after high levels of scrutiny. All efforts will be made to rely on the network of government-run institutions from Kendriya Vidyalayas and Navodaya Vidyalayas to government colleges for holding this year's medical exam, it is learnt.

NEET-UG 2024 ran into controversy over alleged leaks and vitiation of the exam process at several exam centres from Sawai Madhopur in Rajasthan to Patna and Hazaribagh in Bihar and Godhra in Gujarat. Almost all cases involved exam centres located at private schools and indicated protocol breach at test centre level.

It is felt that greater accountability and security apparatus can be ensured at government run institutes functioning as test centres, as compared to private schools.

Internal government assessments of the NEET-UG 2024 fiasco also red flagged faulty allocation of test centres in several states. State governments and district administration in many places also pointed out how the allocation of test centres by the National Testing Authority (NTA) was puzzling in several cases as even state government exams were never held in many of these.

The Centre's High Level Committee (HLC)- set up under the chairmanship of former ISRO Chairman K Radhakrishnan in the aftermath of the 2024 leak- has also made a range of recommendations on testing centres. Several of these are expected to be put into effect from this NEET-UG cycle, it is gathered.

The HLC has suggested that NTA should develop 'institutional linkage' with state and district authorities for providing a Secure Test Administration Apparatus.

The district committee is expected to identify suitable testing centres after thoroughly scrutinising the previous year's examinations conducted at these centres besides conducting a background analysis of the centre's owners, previous incidents of paper leaks, and inputs of the Intelligence Bureau or local intelligence units.

The HLC has emphasised testing centres should be selected only after due inputs are received from the District Level Coordination Committee- chaired by the District Magistrate, green signalling it.

It has further underlined that testing Centres with 'any bad reputation for malpractices in the past' must be 'blacklisted' and should not be used for any exam.

The panel report has added that centres with appropriate infrastructure should be randomly chosen, using computer software programs, to prevent any kind of manipulation by mischievous elements.

NEET-UG 2025 will be held in pen and paper mode and on a single day, as before, the National Testing Authority (NTA) announced earlier this month. Given the 2024 leak, this year's exam is set to come under close scrutiny and will test both NTA and the Central government's ability to ensure an error free exam.

AT GLOBAL ELECTION MANAGEMENT BODIES' CONFERENCE

CEC Kumar Cautions Against Social Media Fake News 'Pollution'

LET SOCIAL MEDIA PLATFORMS, WHICH HAVE HELPED FREE SPEECH, NOT BE CLOUDED BY THE SHADOWS OF FAKE, UNVERIFIED AND MISLEADING NARRATIVES

Bats for biometrics, remote voting and AI electoral roll refining- with political consensus

Our Political Bureau

New Delhi: While batting for possible use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) for refining electoral rolls and managing poll logistics and simplifying processes, Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar on Friday cautioned against false narratives and misinformation 'polluting' social media platforms and underlined the need for the latter to introspect and act before it is 'too late'.

"Let the social media platforms, which have been instrumental in providing a critical space for free expression, especially to voices not heard, not be clouded by the shadows of fake, unverified and misleading narratives, disruptive by design," the CEC said in his valedictory address at the international conference of global Election Management Bodies (EMBs).

"The entire social media space is polluted. If we have environmental pollution outside, equally serious social media pollution we have inside. It needs anti-pollution measures," the CEC added.

Hinging at 'business interests', he also red flagged the algorithms reinforcing distorted views and even false narratives on the social media platforms without any checks.

"It is not enough to leave it to fact checkers to detect it. It is like allowing easily detectable fake to pass through and then leave it to organizations at receiving end, like the EMs, to engage fact checkers and rescue themselves and the electoral process. Business interest appears to be at work here. It is like First spreading disease and then selling medicines. The casualty is a fair election process and purity of democracy", the CEC added underlining that only by sustaining democracy is freedom of speech guaranteed.

At the end, the EMs have decided to set up a working group on the issue, the CEC said.

Kumar further highlighted instances of certain 'democracy index' rating 'discrediting elections' on the basis of some media reports and social media conversations.

He proposed instead an 'Election Integrity Index' either in addition to Democracy Index or a separate index within Democracy index with pre-defined weightage for greater objectivity.

The CEC also made special mention of 'revolutionary' technology based innovations such as biometric authentication to check voter impersonation and the idea of 'remote voting'. Kumar said both ideas where EC has also done considerable homework- show much promises but agreed that they must be accompanied by 'foolproof' of secrecy and security of voting and more importantly, any electoral reform has to be anchored by 'political consensus'.

Naik. There is immense speculation of Salvi quitting the UBT camp and joining the Shiv Sena, which he has not explicitly denied. Salvi is being wooed by both the Shiv Sena and BJP.

Their absence assumes significance as Shiv Sena leader and Industry Minister Uday Samant has said that in the coming days there would be several desertions of high-profile leaders from the UBT camp to the Shiv Sena. Samant has claimed that four UBT MLAs and three of its MPs would soon switch over to the Shiv Sena. Significantly, Samant has also claimed that four Congress MLAs were also going to join the Shiv Sena.

KHARGE AND PRIYANKA GANDHA YET TO CAMPAIGN IN DELHI

Cong Promises Separate Ministry for Purvanchalis

Says party will also have separate budget for those from Bihar and eastern UP

Our Political Bureau

New Delhi: The Congress on Friday promised to create a separate ministry and budget for Purvanchali people in Delhi if the party wins the February 5 assembly election.

"We are making two important announcements today. There will be a separate ministry and a separate budget sub-plan for the people of Purvanchali if the Congress is elected to power in the upcoming Delhi assembly polls so that issues related to their health and education can be addressed," Bihar Pradesh Congress Committee (PPCC) president Akhilesh Prasad Singh said while making the announcement at the Delhi PCC office.

He said that people from Purvan-

chali have contributed to making Delhi a world-class city but when it comes to their welfare needs, the Delhi government has failed to do anything substantial and that only the Congress can take care of their needs.

People from eastern UP and Bihar are referred to as Purvanchali and they are one of the biggest electoral segments in Delhi, whom every party is trying to woo ahead of the election.

THIRD RAHUL RALLY CANCELLED

Meanwhile, Congress leader Ra-

hul Gandhi's scheduled rally on Friday was cancelled "on account of poor health", the third such cancellation in three days. Congress spokesperson Supriya Shrinivas said Gandhi was yet to fully recover from illness and that he would resume campaigning once he is fit, even as she dismissed as "false" the BJP charge that Gandhi was scared of campaigning in Delhi, fearing a poor Congress show.

On Kharge and Priyanka campaigning, Shrinivas said they too would do it at the right time.

UNFULFILLED PROMISE

When AAP Promised 20L Jobs Over 5 years in 'Rozgar Budget' in FY23

Nidhi Sharma

ROZGAR BUDGET: WHAT AAP PROMISED IN 2022-23

New Delhi: Aam Aadmi Party has promised youth jobs, yet its 2022-23 'Rozgar' Budget promises remained unimplemented.

Former finance minister Manish Sisodia promised 20 lakh jobs in five years in 2022-23. Introducing the 2022-23 Budget, Sisodia stated, "In my eighth budget in this House, I am presenting an agenda to create new in Delhi and boost economic recovery from the damage caused in recent years due to COVID-19, GST, and demonetisation."

Sisodia listed out 16 schemes for generating these jobs. These included renovation and innovation plans for Delhi's famous retail market, organising a Delhi shopping festival, launch of a Rozgar portal and Delhi Bazaar portal, sprucing up of wholesale markets, a cloud kitchen policy, organising an international film festival in Delhi, encouraging entrepreneurship programmes in school. A look at the Budget reveals that barring two initiatives of Entrepreneurship development programme in schools and an employment market portal called Rozgaar portal nothing has taken off.

Sisodia had said, "Through these schemes we will not only bring back the splendor and glory of Delhi's markets and businesses, but will also encourage the present and future businesses of the 21st century in Delhi. With all these efforts, at least 20 lakh new jobs will be created in Delhi in the next five years." There is no achievement metric available in the public domain.

In 2023-24, Delhi government tapped into yet another aspiration of Delhites—world-class pothole-free roads.

Delhi Shopping Festival to encourage customers from all over the country and abroad to shop in Delhi

Delhi Wholesale Shopping Festival to retain the old character of Delhi being the center of wholesale trade
